Excerpt: .Agricultural plants consist of ten elements, known as the essential elements of plant food, and not a kernel of corn or grain of wheat, not a leaf of clover or a spear of grass can be produced if the plant fails to secure any one of these ten elements. Some of these are supplied to plants in abundance by natural processes; others are not so provided and must be supplied by the farmer. Not one word said about the fertilizer. They have cut out one paragraph from Dr. Duncan s bulletin and another one from Dr. Bradley s bulletin, and if they had a chance they would probably cut out two or three verses from the Bible. Some years ago, when the fertilizer industry was new and farmers had but little experience with commercial fertilizers, we would expect that might be done and we...
