This memoir conveys the experiences, first of my parents and subsequently of our family, the only Chinese people living in Macon, Georgia between 1928 and 1956. It describes our familys isolated existence running a laundry, enduring loneliness as well as racial prejudice for over 20 years, explains why and how it moved across the continent to live in San Francisco near a Chinese community, and relates how each family member adjusted to the challenges and opportunities of their new lives. Some Review Excerpts. . fascinating and insightful account of Chinese-American family life. . . charming and information. . . Paul Rosenblatt, U. of Minnesota . . woven with genuine scholarship. . . masterful bit of storytelling. . . Ronald Gallimore, Distinguished Professor Emeritus, UCLA. . . a unique view of ethnic identity. . fascinating insights. . . what it means to be Chinese when there is no Chinese community. . . and the way subsequent experiences inand out of a Chinese community futher shape this process. Jean Phinney, Author, Multigroup Ethnic Identity Measure. . . an intriguing and unique perspective on American immigration. Based on his experience as a child in the only Chinese family in Macon, Georgia in the mid-20th century, Jungs story is a fascinating account of the negotiation of personal and ethnic identity in a foreign environment. His narrative highlights many of the features of the larger society, including both government policy and situational practice, that shape the lives of immigrants, both then and now. Kay Deaux, City University of N. Y. Grad Center, Author, To Be An Immigrant. . . delightful book opens a window providing a glimpse into the lives of one...
