Ah, wretched Hippomenes, I would that I had not been seen by thee, thou wast worthy to have lived; and if I had been more fortunate, and if the vexatious divinities had not denied me marriage, thou wast one with whom I could have shared my bed. Thus she said, and as one inexperienced, and smitten by Cupid for the first time, not knowing what she is doing, she is in love, and yet does not know that she is in love. Now both the people and her father demanded the usual race, when Hippomenes, the descendant of Neptune, invoked me with anxious voice: I entreat that Cytherea may favor my undertaking, and aid the passion that she has inspired. The breeze, not...
