He asked me where my arms were and I told him one of my pistols was in the scabbard and the other under my head. I reached for it, and as I was pulling it out to give it to him one of his men outside shot me on the right knee. I first thought, on the impulse of the moment, that I would kill the sheriff, but it flashed across me at once that it was a mistake and that in him was my only protection. The sheriff and posse were all very sorry that this happened and each seemed to vie with each other in making me as comfortable as possible. They got a hack and put pillows and bed quilts in it trying to make my journey easy. When we got to Eusk they put me in a private house and sent for a doctor. They then took me to the hotel, kept by Dick Eeagan on the corner of the square. Thus I arrived at Eusk about the 7th of September, 1872, with four bullet holes in me. Many different and varied kinds of people came to see me, some of them expecting to see a man with horns on his head and were surprised when they saw me, saying, He looks just like we uns. They would ask me all kinds of questions; how many men I had killed; if I had...
